

Stylist.co.uk

15 April 2014

Monthly Unique Browsers: 340,000

STYLIST.CO.UK

CLAPHAM LANDMARK GETS MYSTERIOUS MAKEOVER

15 Apr 2014

London's secret street artists usually strike in the streets of Shoreditch or Clapton, but a landmark in gentrified Clapham South has recently found itself on the receiving end of a mystery makeover.

The remains of a distinctive poplar tree opposite Clapham South tube station were transformed into a colourful Easter-themed feature over the weekend.

Before and after: Neil Buchanan would be proud

Witnesses told of seeing three men working on the stump early on Sunday morning, though the identities of the artists are as yet unknown.

Stylist.co.uk continues...

10 MORE UNUSUAL PUBLIC ART INSTALLATIONS IN LONDON:

Wind Sculpture

Yinka Shonibare pictured with his creation

Internationally-renowned artist Yinka Shonibare unveiled his site-specific wind sculpture earlier this month in Howick Place in Victoria. The six-metre tall fibreglass structure is intended to resemble a ship's sail swaying in the wind.