

Tim Forrest's E & A

Art & Antiques – news from London and around

Home

About

Oct
21

PARADIGM STORE

PARADIGM STORE, 5 Howick Place, London SW1, until 5th November 2014

paula roush

Installation view, Paradigm Store, Howick Place

2014

Photography Sylvain Deleu

Courtesy of HS Projects

This exhibition, organised by HS Projects, is spread over various floors in this new landmark building and makes great use of the space before the new tenants move in.

Foreground: Maria Nepomuceno

Background: Nike Savvas

Installation view, Paradigm Store, Howick Place

2014

Photography Sylvain Deleu

Courtesy of HS Projects

The seventeen international (including the UK) emerging and established artists chosen have the themes of art and design, the functional and decorative to look at our environment and way of life, with an emphasis on the readymade.

David Shrigley

Installation view, Paradigm Store, Howick Place

2014

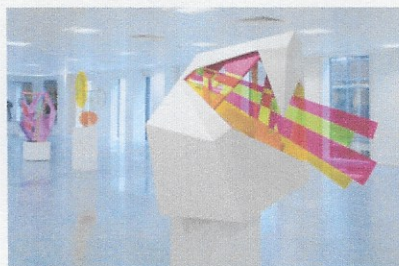

Photography Sylvain Deleu

Courtesy of HS Projects and Stephen Friedman

Gallery, London

They achieve this with a powerful elegance but in an engaging, thought provoking manner. It certainly warrants a visit as it is definitely something that needs to be experienced. Simon Bedwell, Harold Offeh, Beatriz Olabarrieta, Beatriz Milhazes and David Shrigley number among the artists whose work you will see.

Tobias Rehberger
Installation view, Paradigm Store, Howick Place
2014
Photography Sylvain Deleu
Courtesy of HS Projects

Centre: Simon Bedwell
Right: Anne Harild
Installation view, Paradigm Store, Howick Place
2014
Photography Sylvain Deleu
Courtesy of HS Projects

www.hsprojects.com

<http://www.howickplace.com>

Claire Barclay
'Fault on the Right Side', 2007
Oak, glass with mirroring paint, brass and screen-printed fabric
275 x 696 x 152cm
Installation view
Photography Sylvain Deleu
Courtesy of HS Projects and Stephen Friedman Gallery,
London

Posted in Ceramics, Contemporary Art,
Photography, Sculpture, Textiles, Visual Arts
Tagged contemporary art, European Art, Fine art,
Sculpture, textiles, Visual Arts

Leave a comment